

“How to be a Good Dog”

Puppy Classes

Are you having difficulty teaching your new family member how to behave properly? Problems with house training? Leash walking? Meeting new people?

Here at Stony Brook Animal Hospital, Sarah Smith will be offering evening puppy classes to help teach both parent and puppy how to tackle training issues when it comes to teaching your new family member some manners. Some of the things you will be guided through teaching your puppy include: ‘Sit’, ‘Lay Down’, ‘Stay’, ‘Shake,’ how to greet people politely and how to walk appropriately on a leash. Tips and techniques regarding house breaking and behavior management will also be offered.

Classes are offered Wednesday and Thursday nights, from 6:30pm to 7:30pm.

4 week course: $60 (or $15 a lesson.)

Please sign up at the reception desk if you’re interested in attending, or call 491-9096.